

National Environmental Policy Act

The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process is intended to help public officials make decisions about proposed improvements with knowledge of potential environmental consequences and public input.

